Student Organizations: What clubs should I participate in?

Consider getting involved with a student organization. As you gain some experience and familiarity with the group, volunteer to help organize events. Serve in a leadership position. Here are a few student organizations on campus that might be of particular interest.

Premedical and Allied Health Society (PMAHS) (For all students interested in health science-related careers)
- Premed Society group email address: pmahs1787@gmail.com
- The Premed Society student officers send announcements via the gmail email account and they regularly check this account for messages that group members send to them.

Biology Club

Tri-Beta National Honors Society
- National Tri-Beta Website

American Chemistry Society
- American Chemistry Society